Evaluating the impact of tax revenue changes and assessment base adjustments - including the expiration of well and pipeline tax holidays and newly added infrastructure - while Artis remains proud to continue investing in Kneehill County. Over the past decade, Artis has made substantial capital investments that have boosted oil production, created local jobs, and generated royalties, all while prioritizing environmental responsibility and community support. The company's growth has been fully organic, relying on local services, contractors, and collaboration with landowners. Artis actively supports the community through donations to municipal initiatives, scholarships for students, sponsorships and regular contributions to local charities and events, while maintaining four field offices in the County.

Due to the end of the well and pipeline tax holiday and the continued development of oil and gas assets, Artis' municipal linear tax levy in 2025 will increase 126% compared to 2024, assuming no change to the non-residential mill rate.
